

ORBCOMM NAMED ON FOOD LOGISTICS TOP 100 LIST

Recognizes the top software and technology providers whose products and services are critical for companies in the global food and beverage supply chain

Rochelle Park, NJ, December 19, 2016 – ORBCOMM Inc. (Nasdaq: ORBC), a global provider of Machine-to-Machine (M2M) and Internet of Things (IoT) solutions, today announced that it has been named by Food Logistics to the 2016 FL100+ Top Software and Technology Providers list, which serves as a resource guide of software and technology providers whose products and services are critical for companies in the global food and beverage supply chain.

“It’s an honor to be named again on the Food Logistics top 100 list, which supports the broad adoption of ORBCOMM’s advanced telematics solutions to provide full visibility and compliance throughout the supply chain,” said Christian Allred, ORBCOMM’s Senior Vice President and General Manager of Global Sales. “With the FDA’s recent Food Safety Modernization Act, it is more important than ever for companies in the food and beverage industry to leverage technology to optimize the end-to-end supply chain, increase service levels and ensure the on-time delivery, safety and quality of their freight for the duration of transportation.”

“The software and technology sector continues to generate new and exciting opportunities for growers, food manufacturers, grocery retailers and the many logistics providers that support them,” said Lara L. Sowinski, Editorial Director at Food Logistics. “Today’s cloud-based solutions and mobile connectivity are helping create tools that are more flexible, affordable and responsive, making software and technology even more valuable to those in the global food supply chain.”

Companies on this year’s 2016 FL100+ Top Software and Technology Providers list will be profiled in the November/December 2016 issue of Food Logistics, as well as online at www.foodlogistics.com.
